

PRESIDENT

As the person who sets the tone for the club, you are expected to provide helpful, supportive leadership for all of the club's activities.

You motivate, make peace and facilitate as required. Though you must occasionally step in and make a difficult decision, rarely do so without consulting club members and other club officers. Strive to show respect for all members, even when you do not agree with them, and provide leadership for all.

Stay current on all new developments via The Leader Letter.

CLUB CONSTITUTION FOR CLUBS OF TOASTMASTERS INTERNATIONAL

Article VII: Duties of Officers, Section 1

The club president is the chief executive officer of this club and is responsible for fulfilling the mission of this club. The president presides at meetings of this club and the club executive committee, appoints all committees, and has general supervision of the operation of this club. The president shall be an ex officio member of all committees of this club except the club nominating committee and shall serve as one of this club's representatives on the area and district councils. The president shall transmit to this club for its approval or disapproval all ideas and plans proposed by the area and district councils which may affect this club or its individual members; and shall take no action binding upon this club without either specific prior authorization or subsequent ratification by this club.

PRESIDENT RESPONSIBILITIES

Preside over Meetings

The club president opens and presides over every club, business and executive committee meeting. This means the president takes charge of the proceedings and keeps the agenda moving forward. As president, you are expected to manage procedural matters in the conduct of the meeting and to apply parliamentary procedure as outlined in Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised. (You may purchase this book from your local book seller or an online retailer such as Amazon.com.) Your focus is on club quality and the members' experience.

Earn Distinguished Club Recognition

You work together with all of the club's leaders to achieve success in the Distinguished Club Program by encouraging education achievements, building and maintaining membership, attending club officer training and submitting membership dues, officer lists and other documents on time. You recognize member achievements by presenting certificates at club meetings, sending personal emails of congratulations and otherwise publicly praising the good work of club members.

Member Achievements to Recognize

- Best of the meeting (e.g., best speaker, best Table Topics, best evaluator)
- Education awards
- Successfully conducting an event (e.g., speech contest, membership drive, Speechcraft, Youth Leadership)
- Long-standing membership (e.g., five years, 10 years, 20 years)

Lead and Guide

The president serves as the club's representative at the district and international levels.

As president, it's your responsibility to provide leadership for the club whenever it's required. This includes creating a nurturing learning environment and enhancing club quality by conducting well-run, energetic, interesting meetings; actively seeking and connecting with club members and officers; listening patiently and offering assistance; and resolving conflicts as they arise.

If a problem arises within the club that could result in terminating or denying membership, see Protocol 3.0, Section 2 of Policy and Protocol for guidance and procedure.

If anyone ever threatens to take legal action for an issue related to Toastmasters, the Toastmasters International Executive Team must be contacted immediately via boardcontact@toastmasters.org.

---	---	--

If necessary, fill the role yourself.

Scenario: A club officer is underperforming, frequently absent or otherwise unable to fulfill their duties, leaving you, the president, with more to do.

Possible solutions: Meet with the club officer immediately and ask what you can do to help. Engage, encourage and energize them to develop and use the skills required for the job.

Examine your own leadership approach. Ask yourself if you are contributing to the club officer's problems.

Scenario: A club member is belligerent, controlling or otherwise causing trouble at meetings.

Possible solutions: Contact the member immediately and listen to their point of view. (Often, this is enough to solve the problem.)

Give the club member a task that focuses their energies.

Explain the importance of orderly, positive club meetings to the entire group, so the member does not feel singled out.

If the club member needs to be removed, see the Club Constitution for Clubs of Toastmasters International, Article II: Membership, Section 7, and Protocol 3.0: Ethics and Conduct, 2.

Scenario: A closed corporate club needs more support from the company in recruiting members.

Possible solutions: Develop the club's relationship with the human resources or training departments in the company. Promote the club's track record in developing employees and aiding in their success.

Identify the key advocate or influencer. Prove the return on investment to the company.
